Cultural operator(s)

Name	Úbiqua: technology, ideas and communication. A group of people. A mobile phone. And a story to tell.
Short description	With these elements, Úbiqua designs and develops social communication and awareness-raising participatory projects based on dialogue, reflection and e-skills aimed at producing contents and digital narratives using video, photography, audio and other resources in order to foster the representation of experiences, territories and citizen concerns. The aim is to encourage citizen participation and promote the creation of contents and digital narratives using mobile phones as creation and dissemination tools, so that citizens can show their view of reality through digital projects and audiovisual and interactive platforms. We carry out our activity in different educational, social and cultural spheres from a cross-cutting approach: digital technologies and narratives as tools which foster dialogue, knowledge, innovation and social change. + info: http://www.ubiqua.com/

Project

Field(s)	Narrative co-creation, audience development, interdisciplinary
Description	At the moment we are not designing any projects of our own so we offer ourselves to take part in a small cultural cooperation project related to digital narratives cocreation and any project interested in audience development. We think that we could add value to the results dissemination skill so important for any project. Úbiqua's programming framework is based on the new paradigm of Human Rights Promotion and their main regulatory instruments (Universal Human Rights Charter, International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights,

International Covenant on Economic, Social and Cultural Rights, European Convention for the Protection of Human Rights and Fundamental Freedoms, etc.) and is made up of 3 vertical lines and 1 cross-cutting line:

1. Promoting interculturality and enhancing the value of diversity, including Anti-rumours.
2. Peace, memory and democratic coexistence.
3. Awareness raising campaigns.
4. Participatory mappings

And a cross-cutting one: Communication, dissemination and awareness. Communication and dissemination with an awareness-raising purpose is a cross-cutting activity in all our projects. It is not a vertical activity, but rather the very people who participate in the workshops as well as the collaborating organizations and institutions are the ones who communicate, disseminate and raise the awareness of the rest of their community. For every project, we prepare a Communication Plan stating the various milestones of the project so as to achieve as much dissemination as possible.

We also offer our Own Technology: Ubiqarama

Digital production ecosystem made up of a web platform and a mobile application which enable the construction of territorial digital narratives. Ubiqarama systematizes and facilitates the production of participatory projects for the creation of citizen digital narratives using different resources: images, photos, videos, texts... through various narrative typologies: mosaics, routes and mappings with geo-positioned digital contents.

Ubiqarama allows creating projects and posting the contents created, tagged and geo-positioned with the app through an API which enables the synchronization of both tools. Contents can also be posted from the control panel of the platform. The features of the platform allow filtering under different criteria: location, gender, age bracket, tags, etc. and organizing and checking contents in mosaic, map or route mode.
