Aims and activities of the organisation	FIMTE, the International Festival of Spanish Keyboard Music, is a non-profit cultural association based in Garrucha, Almería, Andalusia, Spain, active in music education, music heritage, music research, and community outreach. It was established in 2022 with a double aim: to make music accessible to wide audiences in peripheral and rural areas and to give visibility to the rich heritage of Spanish keyboard music, including both ancient and modern instruments. FIMTE offers instrumental training in keyboard instruments, runs arts education workshops, and organises concerts, festivals and cultural events, including performances in the Almería province and international events via the worldwide web. It also organises a biennial international symposium on Spanish Keyboard Music and publishes books on music topics. The origins of FIMTE are linked to the renowned harpsichord and piano builder Diego Fernández, born in this geographical area. Music critics recognise FIMTE as a musical hub of international reach, an institution for developing new research and for fostering new musical vocations and audiences in the Levante Almeriense region. In this sense, FIMTE has received the prize “IDEAL of Culture” from the Andalusian press and “Estrella de Navidad” from the Andalusian Autonomic TV Canal Sur. Since 2022, FIMTE has been working with more than 100 universities and conservatories of music from around the world. Through European partnerships, FIMTE wishes to develop new educational and intercultural exchanges that enrich participating
